Jackman, a former United Nations Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) official, has spent years working in Gaza. He has witnessed firsthand the devastation that the conflict has caused, and his poems bear witness to the suffering of the Gazan people.

The poems in Gaza Narrates are written in a variety of styles, from free verse to sonnets. However, they are all united by their powerful imagery and their unflinching honesty. Jackman does not shy away from the horrors of war, but he also finds moments of beauty and hope amidst the darkness.

In the poem "Gaza Mon Amour," Jackman writes:

> "The bombs fall like rain, > And the children cry in pain. > But still, the Gazans sing, > And their voices will not be silenced."

Jackman's poems are a testament to the resilience of the Gazan people. Despite the hardships they have endured, they continue to hope for a better future. The poems in Gaza Narrates are a reminder that we must never give up on the hope for peace.

Gaza Narrates is a must-read for anyone who wants to understand the human toll of the conflict in Gaza. Jackman's poems are a powerful and moving testament to the resilience of the Gazan people.
